Summary: similar to "TK has fun" and "Ben 10's Out of this World Babes". series of lemons with Peter Parker/Spider-Man paired with various females. rated for the usual reasons. I don't own Ultimate Spider-Man or any characters associated with it. this is pure fun. don't like, don't read

The Ultimate Spider-Stud

okay, here's the first one-shot for MARVEL's Ultimate Spider-Stud. honestly, I'm surprised. all the praise my last story is getting, woulda thought Ava would win, but she didn't. instead she got second place. hope you enjoy this though. this was suggested by my good friend, jxa fan 2000, and I decided to post it on his birthday. so happy birthday pal!

The Spider Shows his Blade to the Dagger

"Hey, there, swingers. It's your favorite web-slinger Spider-Man, and with me is the one and only Dagger."

As the scene continued, we find Spidey and Dagger on his spider-cycle, her arms wrapped around his waist and chest against his back.

"I know what some of you may be thinking, and yes, it is distracting having a girl's boobs pressed against my back, especially when our costumes are skin-tight. However, we got word that Doctor Strange, the Sorcerer Supreme, needs our help. As for what else you might be thinking, Cloak got himself injured in a recent training session with Agent Venom after we rescued him and the symbiote from Doc Ock. After getting seperated and fusing again, Agent Venom has gotten stronger, so he used a little too much power. So, knowing we didn't have time to wait, we hopped on my trusty spider-cycle."

"Are you sure this is safe, spidey?" Dagger asked.

"Of course I am," Peter said. "You're acting like you haven't ridden on a bike before."

"That's because ever since we got our powers, I've mostly travelled through Ty's cloak."

"For those of you who don't know, Cloak and Dagger's real names are Tyrone Johnson and Tandy Bowen respectively."

"Well, we can discuss that later. We're coming up on Doctor Strange's house."

At first, all that was seen was a rundown apartment until a few seconds later when it's true form appears.

"Doesn't this creep you out?"

"Sure it does. I mean, I'm a science guy. Magic is one of those things I'm not very comfortable with."

Dagger looked over his frame and blushed at his crotch before turning away.

"You... might wanna think about something to help get that down before we go inside."

"Huh? Oh."

"Well, that's embarrassing."

Once Spidey settled down, they went inside. They found Doctor Steven Strange in front of a portal.

"Spider-Man? Why are you here? I asked for Dagger and Cloak."

"Yeah, well, Agent Venom's powers got amped up, and he hit Cloak a little too hard in training, so I'm subbing for Cloak."

"Very well. Before I tell you the mission, I need to do something."

Doctor Strange chanted in a language neither could understand before they briefly glowed.

"What was that?" Dagger asked.

"A protection spell."

"Oh, to protect us from Dormammu or Nightmare?"

"I doubt they will be there, but better safe than sorry. Now, the foe you must help me with is Subuccus, a demoness. You two must enter while I try to shield her from entering our world."

"You got it, Doc!" Spidey said before the heroes jumped into the portal. They found themselves in a dimension not like the Dark Dimension or any of the worlds Spidey went to when he was chasing the Goblin through alternate realities. There were many statues of men and women, mostly women. The women statues didn't cover much of their privates, and covered less and less as they walked down.

"How sexist can you get? We girls are much more than just our bodies."

"Yeah..."

Dagger looked at Spidey, and noticed his bulge reappear. Also, despite wearing a mask, Dagger could tell how he was staring.

"You wanna get this mission done or just oggle my body?"

Spidey shook his head, holding it in his head.

"Sorry, Dagger. It's just..."

Dagger sighed at the male hero. "Don't apologize. I get it. All these statues and your hormones. Kinda hard to resist. Not to mention how hard I pressed my knockers on your toned back." Dagger clapped her hand over her mouth. "Why'd I say that?"

"Because here, you can let go of all those dumb restraints, and let your hormones do the thinking for you," a husky female voice said.

The two looked in the direction the voice was coming from and saw a woman with breasts the size of her head and a matching butt with a perfect hourglass figure. She wore a black leotard that showed off her legs and her creamy breasts. She had bat wings and a tail with a heart at the end. Oh, yeah, she also had horns on her head, which also had long flowing black hair and blue eyes.

"So you're that Subuccus?" Spider-Man asked.

"Of course, and I'm going to help humanity by getting rid of all those stupid morals and return to their primal ways for sex."

"What? I'm not gonna just drop down and spread my legs for guys like that!"

"Oh, sweetie, you're corrupted by that bad world. You need to be reminded what a woman is supposed to do."

The demon snapped her fingers, and suddenly, Dagger's arms dropped as her eyes glazed over.

"Dagger, snap out of it!"

"Oh, you're corrupted by that world too, told to not take charge of a female."

She waved her hand, causing Spider-Man's eyes to glow pink. Then he took his mask off, and slammed his lips onto Daggers, forcing his tongue into her mouth. Dagger replied happily, moaning as he groped her left breast with his right hand and her right cheek with his left hand. Dagger used one of her light blades to open Spidey's outfit at the crotch, letting his member flop out as it hardened to 13 inches long. When the spider bit him, it not only gave him powers, but a slightly enlarged member.

"Blow me, Tandy," Peter said.

She did as Peter ordered, making Peter groan at the sensation. It took about 10 minutes before he released his semen, to which she swallowed as much as possible. Once that was done, she summoned another dagger, cutting into her own suit to expose her womanhood. Peter grabbed hold and thrusting him, getting a hard rhythm before releasing his seed 7 minutes later.

"Yes, you two will help send my message to the world!" Subuccus said.

"They will not, foul temptress!" Doctor Strange said before chanting in a language before the demoness was in a jar, and the heroes came to their senses, Spidey pulling out before they freaked out.

"I didn't mean to do that!" Peter said.

"Of course you didn't, Spider-Man. It was Subuccus that did it. She was responsible for the 1946-64 baby boom."

"Oh no, I came inside of Dagger!"

"Don't worry, Spider-Man. That's why I put the protection spell on you."

"Wait, what do you mean? It didn't protect us."

"It did protect you. I just didn't tell you what it protected you from."

"So we were bait?" Dagger asked.

"Apologies for deceiving you, but if I did not, it would not have been as convincing. Besides, what demon of lust could resist teenagers with hormones?"

"As much as I hate to admit it, you got a point," Spider-man said as Doctor Strange fixed their clothes with his magic.

"This stays between us."

"Deal. I don't want Cloak teleporting me into a volcano."

-meanwhile at S.H.I.E.L.D. Academy-

"Wonder how Spidey and Dagger are doing," Squirrel Girl said to White Tiger.

"Grr, those two alone on a mission," White Tiger said to herself as she masturbated to a picture of Peter Parker.

"Is that who Spidey is under that mask? He's good-looking."

"Squirrel Girl!"
